Warning

This presentation contains material that has been copyrighted under federal law. Any reproduction of this material without the express written permission of owner is strictly prohibited. If you choose to ignore this warning, it is fairly possible that nothing whatsoever will happen to you.

However, the television industry will be upset that they made a little less profit this year and will most likely whine about it. Fact is, I am probably breaking the law by showing this presentation to you all, but I really don't care. The television industry has really made my life difficult with these stupid shows, and this is my payback. As you will see and hear later in this presentation, the National Geographic Channel has even made money off of me and my family. What did we get out of it? Nothing! Just some ridicule from our friends and family. Heck, they didn't even send us a copy of the episode. I had to download it from Amazon.com for three bucks, and then I couldn't even burn it onto a DVD!!! However, technology saved the day, and I was able to download a free piracy program and rip it so you all would be able to enjoy my fishing trip one afternoon. While the National Geographic Channel made a big deal of it, and the show actually made it seem suspenseful, it was jus a normal day on the water. We caught six Dungees and a Tanner, but the Tanner had Bitter Crab Disease, so we couldn't eat it. Blah blah blah blah Blah blah blah blah blah Any infringement upon this copyright will immediately result in the seizure of all songs that you own, at which point they will be transmogrified into Patsy Cline's greatest hits and will be played repetitively to you at the maximum volume allowable. If you happen to be a fan of Patsy Cline, it will instead be changed to Metallica. With that all said, please sit back and enjoy the rest of the presentation. Oh, and by the way... Heckling will not be tolerated.

Title: INVESTIGATE THAT CLAIM BEFORE BUYING

Division of Mining, Land & Water
January 2011

All of a sudden you have the opportunity to invest in a gold mine – in Alaska yet! Gold! Alaska! The Last Frontier! A dream come true! Sounds great, BUT...

At the risk of shattering your aspirations, we suggest taking the time to sit down, collect your senses, and most of all, hold on to your money until you have educated yourself as to what you may be getting into. If you don't, your dream could become a nightmare!

As a prospective claim buyer or investor, investigate the facts! Gold fever always sparks a lot of interest and it's a seller's market. Keep in mind the old Latin phrase: "caveat emptor" – Let the buyer beware.

First of all:

- Realize there is no occupation man is so anxious to enter into, with so little knowledge, as mining!
- In Alaska, there are two sets of mining regulations to become familiar with, State and Federal, depending on who manages the land on which a claim may be located. Regulations differ considerably and can be confusing.
- Alaska land status is complex and can lead to problems also. Besides State and Federal ownership, you may encounter private and Native Corporation ownership of land.
- Easily accessible areas, with a history of mining, are, for the most part, already claimed – some more than once! The "unexplored frontier", often associated with Alaska, is largely a myth.

Help is available! Several State and Federal agencies offer assistance to the would-be miner. Initially, the best sources of information are the State's Department of Natural Resources Public Information Center (Anchorage
